Barcelona Opportunity Week

Until 5th February 2012

As an initiative of Turisme de Barcelona, this winter, the Catalan capital will be bringing together a series of attractive offers during a dream week:

Barcelona Opportunity Week (BCNOW!), an event designed to invite everyone to enjoy the city's activities, attractions and outlets with major discounts. During the week, you'll be able to buy all kinds of products at shops with discounts of more than 50%; hotels will be offering advantageous rates; the top-of-the-range restaurants will be creating specially priced menus; the busy local markets will be more resplendent than ever, with top-quality produce of all kinds at prices that will simply take your breath away; and 40 florists will be selling top-quality bouquets to their customers, at attractive prices too. Throughout the week, airlines will also be offering flights at very special rates. This will also be a great opportunity to come into contact with Barcelona's extensive cultural offering, as its museums, art galleries, cinemas, theatres, concert halls and unique buildings have signed up for the cultural initiative "Set de Cultura" and will be providing an unprecedented offering to suit all pockets which will allow you to enjoy discounts of up to 50% or take part in free activities organised specially for this occasion. It will be time to enjoy a trip to the cinema on Tuesday 31st January and Thursday 2nd February, to see a play or enjoy a concert, among other activities, with the top performances of the moment. You'll find all the cultural information at www.bcn.cat/setdecultura. In a nutshell, the entire retail, hotel, cultural and leisure network in the Catalan capital has joined together to create a new backdrop for major retail and recreational attractions in order to welcome its visitors with open arms. All the outlets participating in BCNOW! will donate some of their revenue to charity.

This year features bigger and better deals!

Festival of Santa Eulàlia

10th, 11th and 12th
February 2012

Barcelona's winter festival, the Festes de Santa Eulàlia, is dedicated to families. During a magical few days, we pay tribute to the brave Eulàlia, or Laia, the little girl who rebelled to defend her ideals. The city considers Laia to be a symbol of solidarity, of the defence of justice and the commitment of youth. Santa Eulàlia is the city's patron saint together with the Virgin of La Mercè. To celebrate, the festival offers a whole host of activities for all the family. Don't miss the parade of gegants, or giants, the processions and correfocs, when people dress as devils and set off fireworks as they dance through the streets.

On the evening of 10th February, you'll be able to see the Ball de l'Àliga (Dance of the Eagle) at the basilica of Santa Maria del Mar. On 11th February there will be the meeting of the Gegantons Infants i d'Escola de Catalunya (schoolchildren in giant's costumes), traditional folk dancing, including the sardana, processions of drummers, and the parade of Santa Eulàlia, when all the gegants from the old town, Ciutat Vella, pass through its main streets, and many more activities besides. Finally, on 12th February, the day of Santa Eulàlia, there will be a number of events, including the hoisting of a reproduction of the city flag, the Penó de Santa Eulàlia, on the balcony of city hall; a display of castells, or human towers, the traditional folk dance, the sardana, gatherings of lacemakers, story-telling, correfocs and bands from around the city who will parade through the streets, as well as other activities for young and old alike.
